

Telemedicine: Is it the “New Normal”?

November 18th, 6 PM to 8PM

Virtual 2 Credit CME

For Lawyers - 2 Distance Learning Substantive Credits
Are Being Provided by the W-BLLA.

FREE for W-BLLA Members.

The Wilkes-Barre Law & Library Association is a Sponsor along with the Medical Society of this Program.
Participation and Sponsorship is through the W-BLLA's
Medical/Legal Committee.

The W-BLLA is an accredited Distance Learning Provider.

Minimum Requirement is access to a laptop or computer.

If you plan to use your cell phone or ipad, you will need to download the Zoom App.

Lawyers who plan to call-in must email Gail at Gail.Kopaik@luzernecounty.org in advance and tell her what telephone number you will be calling from.

How have practices innovated in the area of Telemedicine? What are the options? Are there liability concerns? Will Telemedicine be a valuable option in the future? To answer these questions we'll be joined by:

Telemedicine the Modern Day House Call

Christopher Connor, DO

It's Not All About the Medicine: The New Scrutiny on Your EMR Documentation

Matthew P. Keris, Esquire

Telemedicine: Liability and the New Normal

Mary Kate McGrath, Esquire

Clinical Tele-Ed

Margrit Shoemaker, MD,

FACULTY

Dr. Christopher Connor joined Northeastern Rehabilitation Associates in August of 2016. He received his Bachelor of Science in Kinesiology from The Pennsylvania State University and his Osteopathic Degree from Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine. He completed residency at Temple University Hospital in Philadelphia where he was Chief Resident and awarded Resident Teacher of the Year in 2015. He then went on to complete an Interventional Pain Medicine Fellowship at Dartmouth-Hitchcock Medical Center in New Hampshire. Dr. Connor is board certified in Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation and in the sub-specialty of Pain Medicine.

Attorney Matthew P. Keris is Chair, Electronic Medical Record and Audit Trail Practice Group Shareholder at Marshall Dennehey. He is as a national leader of the defense bar, Matt currently serves on the Defense Research Institute's (DRI) Board of Directors as the Atlantic Region Director and is a member of the Steering Committee for its Annual Insurance Roundtable. He is also the Board Liaison to DRI's Lawyers' Professionalism and Ethics Leadership Committee. Matt is a former President of the Pennsylvania Defense Institute and continues to serve as the chair of the Medical Professional Liability Committee. He twice served as President of the Pennsylvania Association for Health Care Risk Management, and is an active member of the Claims & Litigation Management Alliance.

Attorney Mary Kate McGrath is Chair, Telehealth and Telemedicine Practice Group Shareholder at Marshall Dennehey. She has extensive experience in the defense of health care providers, hospitals, health systems, rehabilitation centers and skilled nursing facilities from the onset of a client's involvement in a case through the appellate level. Mary Kate is an active member of her community, supporting several local organizations. She serves as the Solicitor for Central Behavioral Health, and she volunteers with Commonwealth Youthchoirs, as a Group Manager for the Keystone State Boychoir. She has served as a pro bono child advocate for the Montgomery Child Advocacy Project.

Dr. Margrit Shoemaker is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine and completed her residency in Internal Medicine and fellowship in Endocrinology and Metabolism there. She is Board Certified in both. In addition to maintaining a clinical Endocrinology practice, she has been instrumental in the clinical education of physician assistant students, medical students and residents. Dr. Shoemaker joined clinical faculty of The Commonwealth Medical College (currently Geisinger Commonwealth School of Medicine (GCSOM)) as a regional Assistant Dean in 2010 and became Assistant Chair of Internal Medicine in 2012, becoming a full-time educator in 2015.

--

Tonyehn Verkitus

Executive Director

Lackawanna and Luzerne County Medical Societies

570.344.3616 phone

570.267.7418 cell

PO box 203, Olyphant, PA 18447

www.luzlackmedsoc.org

Happiness is the highest form of health. – Dalai Lama

If you have concerns about the validity of this message, contact the sender directly, or the Luzerne County IT Department at Cybersecurity@LuzerneCounty.org