RE: Update on Library Access Cards

As you know, the Sheriff's Department ran into a problem processing the original blank access cards that Johnson Controls had delivered to them to be used for our New Library Access Cards. They had to send the defective cards back and wait for new ones to come in. Johnson has now received these and delivered the new blank cards to the Sheriff's Department.

As soon as time permits, the Sheriff's Department will process our Access Cards. To save everyone time, Joe, Gail and Kristin will check the completed cards and they will mail them out to everyone. It is going to take a while until the Sheriff's Department has the cards completed. So, please be patient. When your card has been completed, has been tested and is ready to be mailed to you, you will be sent an e-mail to let you know that it is on its way.

Many thanks.

About the Presenter:

Jeremy Gibson

Jeremy GIBSON founded JRG Designs in Rochester, NY (2002) and developed demonstrative aids for civil litigation and construction-related claims. GIBSON sold the company after he was offered a position with a San Francisco firm that focused on federal litigation. GIBSON routinely traveled to Washington, D.C. to develop demonstrative aids for cases involving high profile clients such as San Disk and Crocs.

In 2008, GIBSON relocated to his wife's hometown of State College, PA to start their family. After working privately with local law enforcement on many computer and cellphone forensic-related investigations, GIBSON accepted a position with the State College Police Department where he was later promoted to Detective.

GIBSON created Digital Trace Forensics, LLC after realizing the demand for civil and criminal demonstrative aids was expanding. GIBSON spent 10 years with the SCPD before parting to focus on the growth of Digital Trace Forensics, LLC.

GIBSON has been afforded expert witness status in several counties throughout the Commonwealth of PA regarding Computer Generated Animation (CGA) and homicide re-enactment.
